  - (k) the monitoring of compliance with the legislation required by Article 82 (1) (b) relating to nomination of candidates by parties.
- (5) The Commission shall exercise its powers and perform its functions in accordance with this Constitution and national legislation.

2) LEGISLATIVE PROPOSAL TO AMEND THE CONSTITUTION

(The Hon. Alice Ng'ang'a, M.P.)

THE CONSTITUTION OF KENYA (AMENDMENT) BILL, 2023*A Bill for*AN ACT of Parliament to amend the Constitution of Kenya

ENACTED by the Parliament of Kenya, as follows—

Short title.

1. This Act may be cited as the Constitution of Kenya (Amendment) Act, 2023.

Amendment of Article 89 of the Constitution.

2. Article 89 of the Constitution is amended by inserting the following new clause immediately after clause (2)—

(2A) The Commission shall ensure that a review of constituencies undertaken in terms of this Constitution shall not result in the loss of a constituency existing on the effective date.

MEMORANDUM OF OBJECTS AND REASONS*Statement of objects and reasons for the Bill

The principal object of this Bill is to amend Article 89 of the Constitution to protect 27 Constituencies that were protected for the First review in spite of not meeting the population quota requirement and which constituencies risk being merged with others when the Independent Electoral and Boundaries Commission conducts the second review that is due.

The said constituencies are Voi; Wundanyi; Mwatate; Galole; Bura; Isiolo South; Samburu East; Laisamis; North Horr; Saku; Kilome; Mukurweini; Mbeere North; Mathioya; Ndaragwa; Budalang'i; Vihiga; Othaya; Mathioya; Kangema; Marakwet East; Keiyo North; Tetu; Mogotio; Lamu East; Lamu West; and Mvita.

The Constitution only safeguarded the 27 Constituencies from the initial review, which took place in March 2012. With the second review due in 2024, 12 years after the first, it is crucial to ensure that the constituencies are not merged with others. The Constitution stipulates that the Independent Electoral and Boundaries Commission (IEBC) should conduct a review after 8 years but not more than 12 years. This amendment ensures that these constituencies are protected for a minimum of 8 and a maximum of 12 years, allowing them to gradually grow their population to meet the threshold. These constituencies hold significant cultural and developmental value for their inhabitants. Residents have grown attached to them, viewing them as the focal point for the allocation of developmental resources. Through public participation, they have a say in how resources are utilized for various purposes, such as education, infrastructure, and security.

Merging these constituencies would result in an irredeemable feeling of loss of identity and control on the part of their inhabitants over their local development much as they will not be literally moved from their homes.

The Constitution does not grant the IEBC the authority to interfere with county boundaries. Equally IEBC has no powers to increase or reduce the number of Constituencies. Therefore, if a constituency is merged within one county, the IEBC would have to adjust the boundaries of other constituencies in a different County to maintain the total of 290 constituencies. This could lead to discord and grievances among counties, as they may perceive others as benefiting at their expense. With 47 counties in Kenya, each with its own devolved functions and resources, the sentimental attachment to county identity is strong. Folding an existing constituency in one county to create a new one elsewhere may be seen as an act of “robbing” a county of its representation and resources. This could potentially lead to unnecessary disharmony and conflicts among counties.

Clause 1 of the Bill is the short title.

Clause 2 of the Bill seeks to amend Article 89 of the Constitution to insert a new clause (2) requiring the IEBC to ensure that their review of constituency boundaries does not result in the loss of a constituency that existed when the Constitution was promulgated.

Statement on the delegation of legislative powers and limitation of fundamental rights and freedoms

This Bill does not delegate legislative power or limit any fundamental rights or freedoms.

Statement as to whether the Bill is a money Bill within the meaning of Article 114 of the Constitution

The enactment of this Bill shall occasion additional expenditure of public funds.

Article 89 of the Constitution that is proposed to be amended—

Delimitation of electoral units

89. (1) There shall be two hundred and ninety constituencies for the purposes of the election of the members of the National Assembly provided for in Article 97 (1) (a).

(2) The Independent Electoral and Boundaries Commission shall review the names and boundaries of constituencies at intervals of not less than eight years, and not more than twelve years, but any review shall be completed at least twelve months before a general election of members of Parliament.

(3) The Commission shall review the number, names and boundaries of wards periodically.

(4) If a general election is to be held within twelve months after the completion of a review by the Commission, the new boundaries shall not take effect for purposes of that election.

(5) The boundaries of each constituency shall be such that the number of inhabitants in the constituency is, as nearly as possible, equal to the population quota, but the number of inhabitants of a constituency may be greater or lesser than the population quota in the manner specified in clause (6) to take account of—

- (a) geographical features and urban centres;
- (b) community of interest, historical, economic and cultural ties; and
- (c) means of communication.

(6) The number of inhabitants of a constituency or ward may be greater or lesser than the population quota by a margin of not more than—

- (a) forty per cent for cities and sparsely populated areas; and
- (b) thirty per cent for the other areas.

(7) In reviewing constituency and ward boundaries the Commission shall—

- (a) consult all interested parties; and
- (b) progressively work towards ensuring that the number of inhabitants in each constituency and ward is, as nearly as possible, equal to the population quota.

(8) If necessary, the Commission shall alter the names and boundaries of constituencies, and the number, names and boundaries of wards.

(9) Subject to clauses (1), (2), (3) and (4), the names and details of the boundaries of constituencies and wards determined by the Commission shall be published in the Gazette, and shall come into effect on the dissolution of Parliament first following their publication.

(10) A person may apply to the High Court for review of a decision of the Commission made under this Article.

(11) An application for the review of a decision made under this Article shall be filed within thirty days of the publication of the decision in the Gazette and shall be heard and determined within three months of the date on which it is filed.

(12) For the purposes of this Article, "population quota" means the number obtained by dividing the number of inhabitants of Kenya by the number of constituencies or wards, as applicable, into which Kenya is divided under this Article.
